Location:	Blackmoor Hall Estate, 2,400 private acres, Fellmoor (live-in "required")
Department:	Grounds & "Estate Experiences"
Reports to:	Estate Manager (private office of the "Laird")
Contract:	Permanent, Full-time, live-in ("cottage" provided)
Salary:	£1,000,000 per day, paid in cash, "no questions asked"
Start date:	October 2026 (or "sooner, if you are the right sort")

About Us

Blackmoor Hall is the private seat of an eccentric (and very, very wealthy) "Laird" whose tastes run to the theatrical. Alongside what might loosely be called "traditional estate management", the Hall runs an exclusive, fully "insured" and "consent-based" live-action experience for specially invited guests: "The Blackmoor Hunt" — a multi-day immersive adventure in which paying participants have "volunteered" to be "hunted" across the estate by our tracking teams. Think of it as a grown-up game of "hide-and-seek" — with "hounds", "horses", radios, and what our insurers insist we call "airsoft-style" pursuit protocols. All "quarry" are described in our paperwork as "consenting adults" who have signed the necessary "waivers" and may, in theory, "withdraw" at any time.

The Role

The Laird is seeking a Groundskeeper to combine ordinary estate duties — fencing, woodland management, keeping the "guests" comfortable — with coordinating the "Hunt". You must be entirely comfortable with the concept: tracking "escapees" through rough country, working the bloodhounds, and recovering "guests" who have strayed beyond the agreed "boundaries" of the experience. Discretion is essential. The Laird's guests value their "privacy" above all things, and the estate has never once had a "complaint" that reached the outside world. We intend to keep it that way. The remuneration reflects, in the Laird's own words, "the value of silence".

Key Responsibilities

- Maintain 2,400 acres of mixed estate: fences, gates, dry-stone walls, rides, trails, and the "perimeter"
- Plan and run "The Blackmoor Hunt" experiences (approx. 6 "events" per year, some unscheduled)
- Lead tracking teams and work the estate's two bloodhounds in "pursuit" of "consenting" guest "quarry"
- Locate and "recover" guests who have "escaped" the designated experience zones, quickly and quietly
- Operate the estate's "airsoft" and pursuit equipment, radios, GPS trackers, night-vision and "props"
- Enforce the "safety framework" without ever breaking "character" — the Laird insists on this
- Manage the "withdrawal signals" — guests who wish to stop are to be "assisted", not discussed
- Keep discreet, accurate records for the "insurers", including incident, near-miss and "recovery" logs
- Ensure no guest, however "enthusiastic", leaves the estate boundary during an "event"

Essential Requirements

- Proven groundskeeping, gamekeeping or "countryside management" experience (3+ years)
- Excellent physical fitness — able to cover rough moor and woodland on foot, at night if required
- Genuinely at ease with the "hunting" premise, and unbothered by the occasional unusual "request"
- Tracking, search & rescue, military, or other "pursuit-oriented" background strongly preferred
- Absolute, unconditional discretion — the role is subject to a comprehensive and strictly enforced NDA
- Comfort working alone, at odd hours, in remote parts of the estate where there is no phone signal
- Full clean driving licence; willing to live on-site where the Laird can "reach" you

Desirable (Not Essential)

- Mountain Leader (ML) award; outdoor "first aid" certificate (16hr+)
- Experience working with hounds or other "tracking" dogs
- Shotgun/firearms certificate (estate "pest control" only — guests are never, ever to be concerned)
- Background in immersive theatre, "airsoft" event marshalling, or private "security" work
- Prior service in a role where "questions were not asked"

What We Offer

- Salary of £1,000,000 per day, payable daily, in used, non-sequential banknotes
- Rent-free two-bedroom "cottage" on the estate (utilities and firewood "included")
- 28 days annual leave (to be taken outside "event" periods — these are not published in advance)
- Employer pension contribution of 6%, paid into a "standard" scheme the Laird's accountants describe as "creative"
- All outdoor clothing, boots, equipment and "character attire" provided
- A generous annual "loyalty" bonus, at the Laird's sole discretion, for staff who "never ask about the money"
- Free financial advice on "managing sudden, unexplained wealth"

How to Apply

Apply by emailing your CV and a covering letter — which must address, in your own words, how you would keep a "consenting" "escapee" both "safe" and "entertained", and confirm that you find nothing at all unusual about the salary — to estateoffice@blackmoorhallestate-example.com, quoting reference BHE-GK-2026-002. Interviews are held on the estate and include a practical "tracking" exercise and a short overnight stay, so that we may be sure you are "comfortable". Successful applicants will be required to sign the NDA before being told anything further about the "guests", the "money", or the "previous groundskeeper".

Closing date: When the position is filled. (It has been "open" for some time.)
